

Lynn vs Peterson, Miller Will Oppose Lewis In Election

Candidate Deadline Set for March 23; Results at Dance

MARGARET LYNN, Allied standard-bearer, will oppose Anne Peterson, Progressive coalition candidate for the office of Student Council president; while Felicia Miller, Allied, will run against Mervin Lewis, Independent, for vice-president. The Hatchet learned in an exclusive interview Saturday night.

Bill Hamm, Allied choice for Advocate, will compete with Stuart Beatson, while Lois Lord will run against Elizabeth Wells, Progressive alternate, nominated upon receipt of Berry Barnes' withdrawal from the race for publicity director. Student Council elections this year will be held April 18, 19 and 20. March 23 has been set for deadline of submission of candidates, while party platforms must be submitted by April 4.

Make-up of the Qualifications Committee has been announced by Jimmy Huddleston, Student Council Advocate. Presidents and secretaries of the following six campus organizations will compose the membership of the committee: Interfraternity Council, Mortar Board, Pan Hellenic Association, ODK, Student Bar Association, and the Engineers' Council.

Where one of the candidates happens to be either president or secretary of one of these groups, he will appoint an alternate to serve in his place on the committee.

Membership of the Student Council's Election Committee was also announced. It will include Jimmy Huddleston, Margaret Williams, Bud Friend, Phil Band and Betty June Karle.

The Student Council states that any student interested in running for office may do so by submitting his name before March 31 to the Qualifications Committee with a list of his activities and a statement from the Registrar's Office showing his good standing in the University.

The Council has also called the attention of the Student Body to that clause of the Council Constitution (See LYNN vs PETERSON, Page 4)

Students Vote For New Activity Fee; Four-to-One Ratio

PRELIMINARY TALLY of votes on the proposed SAF, Student Activity Fee, reveals that day school students are four to one in favor of the plan. Night students appear to be equally divided in their vote.

Since only 160 students have cast their ballots, the ballot boxes will remain this week in Student Club, Hall of Government, Building D, Strong Hall, Staughton Hall, and the Library, in anticipation of more of the student body expressing their views on the activity fee plan.

In the comments of those voting "no," the majority thought that the fee should be a part of the $8 already paid to the University or that the plan should wait until after the war.

Tryouts Set

TRYOUTS FOR the cast of "Elizabeth the Queen," Cue and Curtain's final major production of the current season, will be held on Monday, March 19, in Studio B of the auditorium, according to Floyd L. Sparks, director of the group.

"Elizabeth the Queen" is one of Maxwell Anderson's best and offers many roles for aspiring student thespians.

Committee Gives New Amendments To Student Council

DRAWN UP by the Constitutional Committee of the Student Council, a list of proposed amendments was submitted at last Friday's meeting by Jimmy Huddleston, Advocate.

The amendments will be voted on by the Student Council at its regular meeting March 23 in Building K, two weeks following their proposal. They then must pass the approval of the Student Life Committee before final adoption.

Included in the proposals are amendments giving the Council power to make all rules governing both Student Council and class elections to direct the orientation of freshmen.

Another proposed amendment is that a list of all closed nights must be submitted by October 15 and published in The Hatchet.

The famous unwritten six-year rule that no student shall be eligible to hold office if he has a bachelor degree or its equivalent or has been a student at the University for six years is one of the amendments to bring the Constitution up-to-date.

Reason for the lateness of the amendments was attributed to the fact that for a long time a copy of the Revised Constitution could not be located.

University Law Professor Will Summarize United States Anti-Trust Policy March 21

Collier to Stress Interpretation of Good, Bad Trusts

SPEAKING ON OUR national anti-trust policy, Professor Charles S. Collier of the University faculty will give a summary of the policy favored by the United States Department of Justice in prosecuting the trusts, Wednesday, March 21, in Room 1, Hall of Government, at 8:15 p.m. This lecture is the third of the Alumni Association sponsored Wednesday evening sessions.

Specifically, the questions, what are good and bad combinations, and what sort of combinations should be permitted, will be the theme of Dr. Collier's talk. He will attempt to explain also the difficulties involved in the various interpretations prevailing on these questions. Dr. Collier received his degrees of A.B., LL.B., and S.J.D. from Harvard, and has been on the University faculty since 1917. He has written many articles for University law reviews and other law journals, and is a member of Phi

Red Cross Drive Set For Friday

Peterson to Open Campaign During 'Roberta' Showing

UNIVERSITY participation in the National Red Cross Drive will be opened during the intermission at "Roberta" Friday by Anne Peterson, victory service drives chairman. The drive will run for one week, terminating at the Buff and Blue, March 23, with the presentation of a plaque to the organization gathering the most funds.

Contributions will be accepted by the ushers from members of the audience following the play.

All organizational representatives will meet at noon Thursday in Strong Hall to complete final plans for the drive. A booth will be maintained in the Student Club each day beginning Monday from 12 to 1 p.m. to accept contributions. Anyone giving one dollar or more will receive a Red Cross seal and lapel buttons will be given to all contributors.

Inter-sorority competition will be based on a minimum assessment of 25 cents per member. Funds submitted over that amount will be included in the calculation of the contest prize, Anne Peterson announced Sunday.

Activities of the Red Cross, through the national branch and the vast network of its international organization, include distribution of the vitally needed relief packages to prisoners of war, collection and distribution of life-saving blood plasma and whole blood, provisions for recreation for members of the armed forces, and numerous services for civilians at home.

Foreman, Wolf Announce Plans

TENTATIVE PLANS for the weekly publication of a University Gazette were announced this week by co-editors Daryl Foreman and Dorothy Wolf.

Organizations and faculty members are to submit all dates of their meetings, social functions and general announcements for the April 2 edition to the co-editors before March 23. All calendar dates for May must be submitted before April 15.

In addition to being placed on the bulletin boards, the Gazette will be mailed to faculty, administrative advisors and student leaders.

Gay Kern Musical "Roberta" to Open Friday In Lisner

Sparks Receives RKO Permission To Use Kern Hits

LARRY STRICKLAND

Collegiate Players Name Strickland President of Club

INSTALLATION of Pi Epsilon Delta, National Collegiate Players, Saturday, March 17, completes the coast-to-coast organization of this oldest and largest of honorary dramatic fraternities in existence.

Professor Howard C. Morgan of Burham University, and Executive Secretary and Treasurer of the National Council of the fraternity, will direct installation ceremonies.

President of the new local chapter, the George Washington Chapter No. 38, is Larry Strickland, with Virginia Nalls, vice-president; Barbara Ringer, secretary; Gerry Lock, treasurer, and Norene Burnette, historian.

Other active members include Mabelle Hughes, Polly Harpster, Edith Norris, Harriett Hulfish, Edwina Rathgeb, Ellen V. Watson and Tony Brady.

Faculty adviser Floyd L. Sparks and Don H. Williams, George E. Bishop and Cay Knokey are associate members.

Pi Epsilon Delta, established as an honorary group, was founded at the University of Wisconsin in 1919 to "recognize and encourage all phases of dramatic endeavor and to organize the dramatic forces at work . . . to the end that the best aims of dramatics might be served."

CURTAIN GOING UP, going up—to present Jerome Kern's gay, romantic comedy, "Roberta," which made the haunting strains of "Smoke Gets In Your Eyes" famous from Main Street to Manhattan. The production will be Friday at 8:40 p. m. in Lisner Auditorium.

Backed by special permission from Jerome Kern and RKO Studio in Hollywood, Director Floyd L. Sparks announced that the lilting melodies, "Lovely To Look At" and "I Won't Dance," found in the movie version of "Roberta," will be included in the University production.

Original dance costumes for the colorful show have a history that traces their origin to the office of surplus property disposal in New Jersey, which sold nylon parachutes to the University for use of the dancers. Designers are under the direction of Leatrice Harpster and Norene Burnette, co-directors of costuming.

Betty Lou Trowbridge stars in the production as the exiled Russian Princess Stephanie with John Mitchell as the football hero, John Kent. Mimi Branson as Sophie Teale completes the romantic triangle.

Title role of Madame Roberta is portrayed by Rusty Schiff with Jack Sweeney as Huck-Haines, popular singer and band leader. Lu Murphy as the night club singer, and Larry Strickland as Huck's manager. The subtle comedy is supplied by Lt. Bob Holmes who portrays Lord Henry.

Reports from the Cue and Curtain box office indicate that ticket sales have already topped previous records established by other productions. To avoid the last minute rush for seats, the box-office manager urged all students to buy their seats early.

Medical Honorary Taps Twenty-Eight For Membership

ELECTION of twenty-four members of the junior class and four members of the senior class of the Medical School to the Smith-Reed-Russell Society was announced yesterday by Dean Walter A. Bloedorn. Membership in the society, Dean Bloedorn emphasized, is limited to members of the junior and senior classes with an academic average of 86 or over.

Seniors elected to membership include: Home Smith Ellsworth, Frederick Burgess Hartsock, Stuart Henry Martel, and Donald Johnson.

Charrier Appointed

REPLACING Don Balfour, Jim Charrier, Sigma Chi, was appointed new Comptroller for Student Council at their regular meeting last Friday, according to an announcement by Lois Smith, president.

Congressman Hays Makes Plea for Unselfish Attitude

for free trade, and for the building of an international agency open to all nations which want peace and which want to maintain the democratic form of government was made by the Hon. Brooks Hays, Representative from Arkansas, last Wednesday evening at 8:15 p.m., in the second of the lecture series. "We must not be selfish," declared Mr. Hays, when he specified that he thought Lend-Lease was a good thing, and that we must help preserve the economic basis of the world. Toward greater national unity, in order to prevent the subjection of an American international policy to the vagaries of party politics in this country, he and Congressman Walter Judd of Minnesota are making an attempt to introduce a resolution into the House which would make both major political parties responsible for all peace legislation.

Another Evil

• THE HISTORY OF CAMPUS POLITICS has never made a particularly pretty picture. In days not so far gone electioneering, ballyhoo, posters, campaign buttons, armbands, public address systems and the like were considered all part of the game, and not much of an effort was made to prevent them.

Along with these not-so-bad approaches to the problem of getting a candidate elected we had people voting more than once, outright coercion of votes and straight party votes by large sections of the student body with vested interests.

Today, thanks to the effort of some good Student Councils and the Student Life Committee, most of these evils have disappeared.

No longer can the candidate with sufficient funds, plaster the campus with posters and handbills to the disadvantage of his not-so-well-off opponent. No student can vote more than once, his activity card takes care of that. But one evil still exists. The unsuspecting student can still be buttonholed and talked into voting a straight party ticket without the least knowledge of whom he is voting for.

The straight party vote should be abolished.

It can be done so, very effectively, by the adoption of a scheme we learned about in Dean West's Poly Sci 9 class; the adoption of the "Australian Ballot."

The "Australian Ballot" system is a very simple one. Its most applicable feature to the coming Student Council elections is the fact that only the position and the candidates up for office appear on the ballot, nothing else.

With the adoption of such a ballot no one could vote for the "little box in the upper right hand corner." The voter would be casting his ballot for people and not parties. Could anything be better for representative student government?

The idea was tried out here at the University a few years ago. It was discontinued when it was found that only about two-thirds as many ballots were cast, than in previous years.

But that very fact should substantiate our point. Its a well known fact that only a small minority of the student body are really concerned with student politics. It has also been true in the past that elections have been won by the party with the members who could talk fastest and most persuasively, thus totaling the greatest number of party ballots.

If the sole interest of everyone concerned is to see that the best qualified people get elected to the Student Council, then we can envision no objections to this step to place student politics on a higher plane.

Orchids ...

• TO THE GROUP OF PROFS who were realistic enough to see the need for preparedness after the war, and the need for post-war military training for the youth of this nation.

Even as we, they apparently see quite clearly that no one plan has yet been evolved to satisfy all nations or to keep the peace of the world. Our decision was reached after noting the conflicting desires, interests and plans that marked the establishment of "government" in the Liberated Countries and the policy-making decisions of the "Big Three."

Since neither International Organization nor internal military force have been able to prevent wars in the past, why not try both in the future ... a World Organization for the settlement of disputes, and a trained, equipped, efficient military organization to fall back upon, if necessary.

And, Onions

• A GREAT BIG, ROUND, WELL perfumed onion to us for two errors in last weeks issue that have caused a lot of comment and a great deal of indignation.

First, an apology to Kappa Kappa Gamma for including them in our list of USL candidates on the Progressive Party Slate. By their own Constitution, the Kappas are prevented from entering into campus politics, and to our knowledge they have never done so.

Lastly, we inadvertently noted that the Auditorium would become taxable at a higher rate by the "Treasury Department," if it should be opened as a professional house. This is not so. But it would be taxable by the local authorities at a higher rate.

All in all, is our face red!

Ten Years Ago

—In the Hatchet

• THE GREATEST NUMBER of national officers ever to take part in the initiation ceremonies of a new chapter were expected to attend the initiation of Phi Theta Chi into Theta Tau, national professional engineering fraternity.

"Jumping Joe" Danzansky played the lead role, that of Kenneth Bixby, entangled young author, in "Goodbye Again," Cue and Curtain's second production of the season.

Dr. A. Curtis Wilgus, associate professor of Hispanic-American History and director of the Center of Inter-American studies, was the editor of a new book entitled, "Argentina, Brazil, and Chile since Independence."

Phi Eta Sigma, honorary society for freshmen with high scholastic standings, pledged five new members.

Men's Glee Club was in Pittsburgh for the Intercollegiate semi-finals. Hope was high for regaining National Championship, formerly held by the Club in 1930.

President Marvin granted approval for the use of the grounds to the rear of the Arts School Building and International House for the annual Fiesta and put all the facilities of the University at the disposal of the director, Sam Futrovsky.

Women's Debating Team opened 1935 series with the University of Pittsburgh, on the question of government monopoly of arms and munitions.

Mary Spelman, member of Women's Varsity rifle team, placed fourth in the women's individual intercollegiate championship match with a score of 596.

Following a hotly contested battle, Ruth Critchfield was elected Women's Athletic Association head.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sirs:

Some weeks ago there appeared a letter in this column issuing a plea for a general housecleaning in our language department.

Shortly thereafter, I was called into Dean Garnett's office, where he told me, "I have decreed that you may no longer take French for credit." He very benevolently added that as soon as papers came through waiving my language requirements, I could transfer to another course. All this as a somewhat belated consensus of opinion that the course was "too easy" for me.

Now it may be unfair of me to suspect the honorable intentions of our administration in "easing an agitator" out of an embarrassing situation. It may be that it is only a strange coincidence that brought this decision close upon the heels of the appearance of the letter. I shouldn't like to think that either our professors or our deans would take recourse to such puerile strategy.

Irrespective of the stimulus causing this decision, the same situation still exists in our language department—Americans teaching where natives would be much more effective. And nothing seems to have been done about it.

Admittedly, it may be slightly difficult to find qualified natives, but with a little concentrated effort, it should not be impossible, as Washington is overflowing with foreign language schools which seem to have surmounted this obstacle.—M.J.S.

Press Notes

• GENEVA, N. Y.—(I. P.)—Intelligent choice of a career, the most important problem facing young men and women at college level, will be aided by a new program introduced by Hobart and William Smith Colleges.

According to a recent survey, approximately 50 per cent of students entering liberal arts colleges have made no choice of a career. The Career Determination program is designed to include consideration of many life interests to ascertain rewards, hardships, working conditions, and opportunities to aid in making this choice.

Special testing techniques will help students evaluate their own qualifications after research into inclinations, abilities, and education needed for success in each field. Provision is made for movies, lectures by visiting experts, and trips to business and industry to demonstrate actual conditions. This program reverses the usual vocational counselling technique.

Inside Track On ...

Dorothy Wolf

• "A GIRL WITH a list of activities 'a mile long' and a date almost every night" is a friend's description of Dorothy Wolf.

Heading the lengthy recital of her activities comes Dottie's sorority positions: President, Vice-president,

Treasurer, and Pledge Chairman of Phi Sigma Sigma. The Hill-El Foundation, in which she is "very interested," the Women's Athletic Association, the Hatchet, and the Symphony Club have all taken part of her time. Her newest position and activity is her appointment as Co-Editor of the University Gazette, the new "social sheet" to appear in April.

Dorothy has also found in Student Council Politics another field for achievement. For the past two years after a successful campaign on the Allied Party slate she has served on the Student Council as Secretary. This year she is also on the appointive Student Life Committee, and is Chairman of the Allied Party.

This enumeration of offices, organizations, positions, and interests becomes all the more formidable and impressive when one discovers that this year has been Dot's first year as a day-time student! For four years Dorothy worked at the War Department during the day and went to school at night, carrying a full-time night schedule of nine hours, and still found time to become a campus leader.

"Torchy" songs, classical music, Latin American culture, and tall, dark men intrigue Dottie no end. In fact, one of her big ambitions (so says this witty lady) is to travel and work in South America in order to discover whether or not all this "stuff" about Latin American lovers is true!

Dorothy's secret of doing so "much in so little time" is the accounting principal of budgeting one's time.

Big Sister Schedules Style Talk

Group Presents Officers at Tea In Strong Hall

● FIRST BIG SISTER meeting of the semester will feature a talk by Miss Warren, Counselor of Woodward & Lothrop's College Outfitting Service and the presentation of new officers, at a tea Monday, 4 p. m., in Strong Hall.

Miss Warren will speak on the latest spring styles for college misses, stressing fewer collars, shorter sleeves, and capes instead of jackets. Members of the home economics classes have been invited to attend to hear the talk and see the samples that Miss Warren will use to illustrate her remarks.

Tea and musical selections will round out this section of the program. Miss Ruth Atwell, former sponsor of Big Sister, and Mrs. Wells, Home Economic professor, will pour.

New Big Sisters officers are Polly Peterson, president; Ruth Minnick, secretary; Margaret Williams, program chairman; Nancy Hanck, treasurer; Vivian Burke, music chairman; Agnes Smith and Nora Dublin, registrars.

Mary Beth Shepherd, president of Mortar Board, announced that a constitution would be submitted to Student Life Committee at its next meeting. This action will make Big Sisters a separate organization, independent of Mortar Board under whose direction it has functioned for the past year and a half.

Designed to orient transfers and new women students to the ways of the University, the organization was under the direction of Bertie Stamm until the recent appointment.

Co-Directors Hold Talent Auditions For Buff 'n' Blue

● ALL STUDENTS interested in providing entertainment at the Buff 'n' Blue, to be held on Friday, March 23 from 9 to 12 p. m. in the Student Club, are invited to audition from 7 to 9 p. m. in the living room of Strong Hall. Since the entertainment will include all new talent, all interested students are urged to attend the audition.

The Buff 'n' Blue is unique in that it is a student "night club" serving only soft drinks, and using only student talent in the floor show.

This is the third in the series of four yearly Buff 'n' Blue dances and, in view of their past popularity, Co-Directors Mary Jane Whitteley and Joe Vivari urge an early placement of reservations for tickets, which sell for $1.20 including tax. In the continuity of an old Buff 'n' Blue custom, there will be no stags.

Lynn Bell's Orchestra which supplied excellent music at the last Buff 'n' Blue will again provide the music.

Fund Increases

● JOHN PARASKEVAS, chairman of Hellenic Society Drive to raise funds for a modern Greek library at the University, reports a total of $205,000 thus far. No limit has been set for the campaign fund.

ENGINEERS' ANNUAL BALL—Engineers and their dates crowded the Continental Room at the Wardman Park Hotel last Saturday night. Featured "kiss-o-meter" was reported out of order by George Kilpatrick, president of Engineers' Council.

Dean Feiker Joins Engineers In Annual Fete at Wardman

● THE CONTINENTAL ROOM of the Wardman Hotel was the scene of the gala fourteenth annual Engineers' Ball held last Saturday evening from 9 to 12. Dean and Mrs. Frederick Feiker reigned over the festive affair and welcomed back for an evening twenty five recent engineering graduates.

Due to lack of proper replacements for defective tubes, the electronic device known as the "kiss-o-meter," which is purported to measure the clinching power of loving couples, could not be featured.

Drawing for the door prize, which was won by the lucky couple holding ticket No. 105, Vincent Orino and Evelyn Saunders, took place during the intermission.

Roy May and his orchestra furnished sparkling dance music, and featured the haunting "Without Your Love," written by Tommy Phillips and arranged for orchestra by Harold Hogan.

Chief sponsor of the affair was the Engineers' Council, headed by George Kilpatrick. Sigma Tau and Theta Tau, respective engineering and professional engineering fraternities on the campus, and the various national and departmental groups in the School of Engineering were joint sponsors.

Collegiate Players

In addition, the fraternity encourages the writing of plays and the study of all phases of drama in regularly organized courses, with particular emphasis placed upon research in theater problems and the extension of drama into school and community life.

Membership of this organization, drawn from Cue and Curtain and based on all aspects of the theater, requires excellence in at least four phases of the theater arts and completion of at least two courses in this field or pertaining to it.

Prominent members in the fraternity include Frederic March and Gary Cooper, celebrated actors, and Charles R. Kennedy, playwright and author.

Official publication of the fraternity is the Players Magazine, founded in 1924 and published on an international basis, which has a circulation larger than any other magazine of its type in the country.

Two Girls To Receive COGS Pins

Erickson Achieves Special Recognition On Poster Designs

● MARSHA BARTLETT was voted the outstanding member of COGS at their Board meeting last Tuesday night. Receiving honorable mention was Estelle Jasper. Both of these girls will be presented with official COGS pins.

Marsha Bartlett had a total of 360 points and Estelle Jasper a total of 184 points. The minimum number of points required for membership is 35 and the lowest number accumulated by any girl tapped was 45. Five of those tapped had an average of 100 points for COGS credit.

Eleanor Erickson has received special recognition from the United Nations as a result of her outstanding designs for their posters and monthly papers.

Other girls tapped for membership in COGS were: Elaine Clark, Molly Edwards, Dottie J. Egging, Eleanor Erickson, Virginia Keimig, Jean Kerr, Elizabeth Lewis, Gerry Locks, Ruth Ludolph, Cam Lundberg, Barbara J. Martin, Leila McLaughlin, Virginia Nalls, Pat O'Neill, Pat Palmer, Anne Peterson, Polly Peterson, Hildegard Seminar, Mary Beth Sheppard, Agnes Smith, Estelle Smith, Bertie Stamm, Mickey Tohn, Elizabeth Wells, Helen Wheeler, Cynthia Williams, Florence Williams, Helen Zott.

All girls interested in bandage rolling should report to the Walsh House Monday to Friday between 9 a. m. and 4:30 p. m. Girls asked to wear no nail polish or jewelry and bring a smock and a white headgear.

Another project to be undertaken by COGS is helping with servicemen's lodgings. There are 400 cots that must be made up between 9 a. m. and noon every Saturday, and girls are being asked to help with this.

Phi Pi Ep Meets

● PHI PI EPSILON, women's foreign service sorority, will have as guest speaker at a tea Sunday Aluizio Napoleao, second secretary of the Brazilian Embassy and descendant of the great Napoleon, who will speak on international relations between Brazil and the United States.

The tea will be held in the Phi Mu rooms of Sorority Hall at 4 p. m.

Religious Notes

BAPTIST STUDENT UNION

● MONTHLY MUSIC NIGHT will be held for Baptist students Saturday at 1825 F Street, Apt. 9 at 8 p. m. Program for the evening is "Parsifal," Wagner's religious opera on the triumphs of Jesus. Doors open only at 8:30 and 9:20 p. m. Refreshments will be served at 9:20.

A MEMBER OF THE CLASS OF 1845

Spickness and spanness were de rigueur in the colleges of the 1840s. This portrait depicts a member of the Class of 1845 attired for the Junior Prom. Observe the height of his stock and the costly ruffles on his shirt.

In that same year, 1845, the Mexican War was imminent. Railway Express service was 6 years old. The colleges were few. Now, a century later, America is fighting a global war, the colleges are counted by thousands, and our service is nation-wide.

Today, the colleges are training students for the armed services; and the rail and air facilities of Railway Express are being largely utilized for the speeding of war-goods shipments. So, to help all concerned, please do three simple things with your 1945 home packages and baggage: Pack them securely—address clearly and adequately—avoid abbreviating state names.

All-Stars Meet Maryland Tomorrow

Three Game Series To Decide Champion

University Quintet Lacks Tall Men
But Will Shoot Best Against Old-Liner

● IN THE FIRST OF THREE scheduled games, the University Intramural All-Stars will meet the Maryland University All-Stars tomorrow at 8 p. m., in the University Gym.

The second game of the three game series will be played at Maryland, and the teams will toss a coin to decide the site of the last game if the series is tied.

The University team, composed of two players from each campus organization in the intramural league, will be coached by two top-notch players registered at the University, Barry Kreisberg and "Laddie" Reichwein.

The Colonial team, looks like the goods, lacking only one thing, height. The starting team has not been announced; but from what the two coaches would divulge, the five starting men will be Tommy Hurst and Tommy Haycock of the Veterans, Joe Giovacchini and Dave Lenarduzzi of Pharmacy and George Kruger of Phi Alpha. None of these men towers about 5 feet 11, though all of them can give a good account of themselves in other departments.

In its reserve power the University team might find needed height. Mel Sandmeyer of Sigma Chi, Dick Roberts of Phi Alpha, and Gene Jones of SAE are all six-footers, but none of them have been any too outstanding in their games this season. The remaining four men on the squad are Chuck Meloy of Sigma Chi, Art Flack of SAE, Joe Henning and Frank Sheridan of Phi Sigma Kappa.

To look for an outstanding scorer in the bunch is hard, but on the basis of league statistics Lenarduzzi, Hurst, and Kruger will probably carry the bulk of the Buff and Blue offense. The "sleeper" in the lineup is Sheridan of the Phi Sigs. Good off the boards, with a deadly one-hander, he might be the difference between the teams if the score is close.

Little is known about the Maryland quintet, but it's a sure bet that they will come here with a high-geared team, itching for a smashing victory.

Both Reichwein and Kreisberg feel, however, that they can match anything that their opponents throw at them.

tution which states "Election campaigning shall be limited to advertising in The Hatchet to an amount to be fixed in election rules to be drawn up by the elections committees and provided in these articles."

Brothy Wolf of the Allied Party issued the following statement to The Hatchet this week: "We believe that the slate of the Allied Party includes the best qualified students at the University, and that an honest appraisal of qualifications will show that excluding duplication each candidate is superior to his opponent on the other party ticket."

"We believe that a large number of organizations, as we have in the Allied Party, are better qualified to choose the most meritorious candidates than one organization, as in the case of the opposition party."

"Contrary to statements issued by the other party, the Allied Party does not guarantee a position on the ticket to its adherents, as is obvious from a glance at our slate. Our candidates are selected on their merit, and only after a great deal of deliberation. It is because of this fact that the Allied Party has, during the past two years, provided the University with such an excellent student government."

Yanks Eye 'Laddie'

● TERRANCE "LADDIE" Reichwein, outstanding outfielder of the former University baseball team, has been offered a berth with the New York Yankees. Paul Krichell, one of the top scouts of the country, arrived in town last week to talk over terms.

Reichwein, a Navy dischargee, is undecided about entering professional baseball at this time, as he lacks only 35 credits to get his degree.

Med Sophs Take Over 'Mural Lead

● GOING INTO the final round of the Intramural Basketball League, the Med Sophs face the last crucial test when they play Phi Sigma Kappa next Friday night.

If Med Sophs are able to beat the Phi Sigs, they clinch the title. Up to now, the Sophs are still in undisputed possession of first place. However, if they drop another game, Sigma Chi, runner-up for the Intramural title, will be for the leading role.

Last week Phi Alpha Fraternity, spoken of as the "hard luck" team of the league, knocked the Sigma Chi quintet out of first place when they broke the strong zone defense of the Sigma Chis and defeated them 24-17.

Paced by their two scoring aces, "Sonny" Gendason and George Kruger, the Alphas clicked well and were ahead all through the game. Sigma Chi's zone defense was useless as they changed back to a man-to-man defense at the start of the second half. With a minute and a half left to play, the Alphas obtained possession of the ball and kept it until the final whistle.

In a game which was to decide who would take the lead in the Intramural League, the Med Sophs edged out Phi Alpha in a hotly contested game, 29-28. Jack Millar, star forward of the Sophs, tossed 18 points through the strings, as he led his team to the top position in the league.

Other first round games played last week saw the Med Seniors trimming the Med Juniors 25-10; Pharmacy walking over S.A.E. 31-11; and a day later Phi Sigma Kappa bowing to the same Pharmacy team 34-26.

The second round has begun even though the first round has not yet been completed. Starting off with a bang, the Pharmacy quintet nosed out Phi Alpha 35-30; The Veterans wallowing Sigma Chi 22-18; and Phi Sigma Kappa defeating the Med Frosh 21-16.

The individual scoring records this week are exactly the same as the week before except for points made. Millar of the Med Sophs is the top man with 126 points in eight games. Runner-up with 119 points in nine games is Greaves of the Med Seniors. Behind Greaves is Joe Giovacchini of the Pharmacy quintet with 94 points in 12 games played. "Sonny" Gendason, of Phi Alpha, who left for the Navy Friday, is in fourth place with 86 points scored in 10 games. The fifth position is taken up by George Kruger of Phi Alpha, who has 79 points to his credit in nine games.

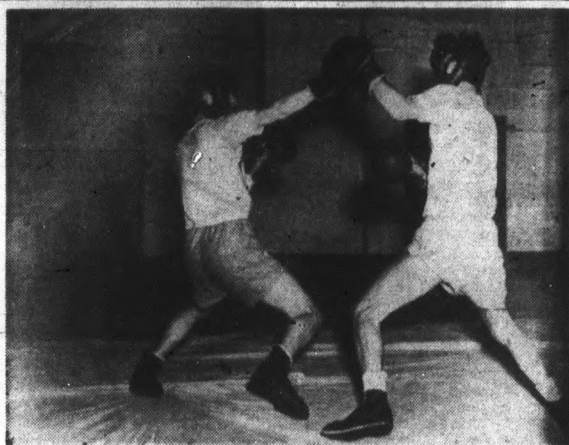

The statistics are as follows:

Player and team	G	FG	F	Pts
Millar, Med. Sophs.....	8	52	22	126
Greaves, Med. Seniors....	9	52	15	119
Giovacchini, Pharmacy...	12	40	14	94
Gendason, Phi Alpha.....	10	39	8	86
Kruger, Phi Alpha.....	9	37	1	79

Baseball Nears

● THE INTRAMURAL baseball season of 1945 will start the first week in April. Organizations are requested to register at the Gym office as soon as possible. The games, as in the past, will be held at the Ellipse ball park.

What Did He Hit Me With?

By BARRY KREISBERG

● "THERE ARE 10 outstanding boxers in this years tournament who can hold their own with anyone anywhere." So expounded "Doc" Lentz, University trainer and boxing coach, in an exclusive interview yesterday.

After viewing some of the prospective champs, the best of the group seem to be Dick Roberts, last year's 160-pound champ, Ira Cohn, John Kalavantinos, Tommy Haycock, and Chuck Wallack. All the boys seem to be in excellent shape and some fast and furious bouts are in store for onlookers the night of the tournament.

Pairings for the semi-finals will be announced some time this week at the University Gym. At present there are 33 aspiring young boxers who will vie for 24 places on the final card.

On March 20, the University Gym will be the scene of four or five bouts to determine some of these final spots. The other contestants to reach the finals will get there by means of first round byes, or by winning in their respective gym classes. The champs of last year automatically place in the finals.

April 15 is the date set for the finals, when the best of the University's young boxers will meet to try for the individual awards and the outstanding boxer's trophy.

A change has been announced in the time of the rounds. Instead of the usual three minute rounds, they will be changed to a minute and a half (barring unforeseen accidents). The length of the bouts, three rounds, will remain the same.

In addition to the regularly scheduled matches for April 15, there will be a special fight carding the two Latin-American battlers, Pedro Ramirez and Carlos Lopez. In this classic bout there will be no referee and the fight will take place with no holds barred. The two fighters will use their hands, feet, head, and anything else they might find handy.

The bout will go on only if suitable opponents are not available for these two ferocious pugilists. There is doubt that any one will even want to enter the ring with these five feet "giants" of the manly art of self defense.

Committee Has Place For Atwell

● INVITATION FROM FEDERAL Security Administrator Paul V. McNutt was received last week by Miss Ruth Atwell of the Women's Physical Education Department at the University to serve on a Committee of Physical Fitness under the direction of FSA.

Miss Atwell has been asked to serve as a consultant on the Committee which will meet March 20 through 22 here in Washington. It was felt that because of her past work outside the University in physical education, her services on this Committee would be valuable. Also participating in these meetings will be other prominent men and women in the various fields which the Committee will cover.

The purpose of such a committee, it was stated in a letter to Miss Atwell, is to consider the fitness problems of girls and women in relation to their changing role of today. Until now it has been felt that due to the current crisis, emphasis has been centered mostly on training of boys and men for combat duty with lesser consideration to fitness of girls for war service.

In its organization meetings the Committee expects to cover broad fields in women's interests now and at the end of the war. Such topics will include health and physical education, labor, medicine, fashion, and personnel administration.

University Quints Cop Doubleheader

● THE UNIVERSITY GIRLS basketball teams emerged victorious Saturday when they copped both their games in a playday event between the University and Hood and Trinity College teams.

In a series of badminton games the University was defeated, however, by Trinity College, five games to four.

In the basketball game against Trinity, the Colonials won in a walk-away, 38-12. The slick passing of the Buff and Blue team had Trinity completely baffled, and grabbing a commanding lead in the first quarter, the University team crashed through for a win.

Against Hood College the story almost read the other way. Spectators are still wondering how the Colonial team managed to sneak home with the 27-17 victory. Outplaying their opponents throughout the game, the Hood College team chalked the loss up to the old axiom of "They're still payin' off on points scored."
